

Stan:

I thought you might be interested in what my brother wrote me about your talk in Indianapolis:

"Admiral Turner's speech was rated A + by our Speech Department in 'adaptation to audience, excellent organization, clarity and beautiful diction -- sharp, brief, excellent platform presence.' He spoke of the new 'charter' for the Agency, giving it what it needs yet protecting the public. He was most generous with the audience by giving it about 30 minutes for questions, which he fielded frankly, ably and genially, being nice about long-winded folks who were making statements rather than asking a question.

"For me it was a treat to see and hear someone of whom I could be proud for the way he represented his government department. I hope he did not mind the TV lights and cameras throughout."
